

3th Congress of ISDCI

July 7-13, 1985

Reims, France

"REIMS, VILLE DES SACRES"

REIMS, one thinks immediately of its cathedral, where many of the kings of France were crowned. In the absidal chapel, the painter Marc Chagall, designed new windows, to this perfect example of gothic architecture. Saint Remi's Basilica, the oldest church in the town contains the tomb of the patron Saint of the city. REIMS, admired universally by travellers for its champagne is a city rich in monuments built when Julius Caesar conquered Gaul (58-49 BC). Referred to at first by the name Durocortorum, it was then a fortified site, powerful, inhabited by its early ancestors, the Remes. In more modern times, Reims suffered greatly during the first world war, but today, its appearance is dynamic, expansive and it rests a city of hospitality. In July, weather can be warm and rain unpredictable. Secluded, but not far from Paris and with minimal distractions, Reims will provide an excellent environment for ample exchange of ideas. The Faculty of Sciences will host the 3rd ISDCI Congress where food and lodging will be provided at costs substantially lower than local hotels. We will have many opportunities to taste the world famous champagne.

With best regards
C. Curjel

3rd INTERNATIONAL
CONGRESS OF DEVELOPMENTAL AND COMPARATIVE IMMUNOLOGY

SECOND CIRCULAR

REIMS — FRANCE

JULY 7-13, 1985

Organized by the
INTERNATIONAL SOCIETY OF
DEVELOPMENTAL AND COMPARATIVE
IMMUNOLOGY (ISDCI)

